USES ARE TO KILL WIFE, 7 CHILDREN

Father, Found Wounded, Confesses He Took Lives of His Family

Three Rivers, Que., Dec. 16 (AP)—Mrs. Andrew Day and her seven children ranging in age from 1 to 14 years, were found dead in their home today with their throats cut, apparently with an axe.

Day, the father of the family, was found wandering in the streets with a wound in the forehead. He was brought to the police station by the authorities where he lived.

At the Day home police found the woman and her children in beds in three different rooms. All had received one or more cuts about the throat as though the perpetrator of the crime had wanted to decapitate his victims.

Although Day's condition was serious, he is expected to recover. He admitted he had "murdered my family" and then tried to kill himself, the police said. The children ranged in age from 1 to 14.

800 P. C. FAIL IN NEW AUTO TEST; WOMEN BETTER

Most Applicants for Drivers' Licenses Fall Down on the Road Laws

With doing better than men, only 40 per cent of the motorists passed their examinations today under the new form of oversight and law tests conducted for driving licenses.

Scenes were tested as to their ability to answer questions of automobile law, to read and write English and to read instantly road signs.

Four inspectors at the Commonwealth and eight at the Commonwealth armory gave thorough tests, with special attention to the requirements of the new condition of the automobiles in which laws were made "was" examined closely.

The new tests required much more time than the old. The total number of examinees in the state is about 80, and the new laws were underway in all counties.

As a rule, motorists are very "flame" on their knowledge of the laws of the road. Only four in 10 gained satisfactory marks.

Many persons who had asked for appointments for examinations did not appear. Due to some misunderstanding, a large crowd collected at the armory, but not all were ready for examinations.

Applicants must be prepared to answer 31 questions on road laws, and to distinguish at various distances some 75 highway signs.

EDDIE CANTOR Rises to Say:

If you are interested in the stock market and want to know what stocks are coming back, yes, sir, they're coming back, but not to the original owners.

The way to bring this country back to normalcy is to do what our President suggested—go back to work. And more than that, we must buy and keep buying. If you promised your wife a fur coat for Christmas, buy it. If your son or daughter wants a new car, buy it. If you have your eye on some good stocks, buy them. We should all buy something and everything we need—but what are we going to use for money?

However, Mr. Mellon sent a chair to Coolidge the day before. The former President, being a man of very few words, won't thank him until they have sent two beds, a table, a rocker and some kitchen utensils.

OCEAN FLIERS TEARING COAST OF BRAZIL

Spain to Uruguay Aviators 1000 Miles Away at 8 A. M.; Making 100 Miles Hourly

Fernando Do Noronha, Brazil, Dec. 16 (AP)—The Uruguayan transatlantic plane en route from Spain to Montevideo was reported at a point approximately 600 miles southwest of the Cape Verde Islands this morning.

A message received here at 11 o'clock local time or 8 a. m. Eastern Standard time gave the position of the plane as a north latitude and 28 west longitude.

This would place Maj. Tadeo Lario-Borges about 600 miles southwest of the Cape Verde Islands and approximately 1000 miles from the Brazilian mainland.

The fliers sent a wireless message this afternoon asking for the weather conditions at Natal, where they expect to make their landing. At that hour they had been over the South Atlantic for a little more than eight hours with the probability that they were at least halfway across the stretch.

Maj. Lario-Borges was reported over Porto Praya, Cape Verde Islands, at 2:30 o'clock this morning and his 11 o'clock position indicated that he was making slightly more than 100 miles an hour or well up to the rate he had set for himself.

Seville, Spain, Dec. 16 (AP)—Two aviators, one Uruguayan and one French, today headed southwest across the Atlantic on a journey of 600 miles from Tahiti airdrome here, to Montevideo, capital of Uruguay, South America.

The aviators are Maj. Tadeo Lario-Borges of Uruguay, and Lieut. Charles Frenchman. They left here in their French Regent plane at 12:40 p. m. Sunday (7:40 a. m. E. S. T.) and were sighted over Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, at 5:50 p. m. (12:50 p. m. E. S. T.).

They radiated shortly after midnight, Greenwich time, that they expected to strike out for the Cape Verde Islands and the open sea on passing Cape Blanco, on the west coast of Africa.

Hold 2 Women, Man in Church Looting

With the arrest of two prominent Framingham women and a young man who lived at their home today, the Arlington and Concord police believe they have captured a band of thieves who have been looting Catholic churches throughout New England for months.

According to Chief of Police Thomas O. D. Urquhart of Arlington, Charles H. Simonds, one of the iron, confessed robbing churches in Concord, Waltham, Maynard and other parts of New England, including Rhode Island.

Those arrested on a charge of stealing money today from four chime boxes in St. Bernard's Church, Concord, are Mrs. Zilda Merriam, 42, of Proctor st., Framingham; her daughter, Miss Ingrid Merriam, 20, of the same address, and Simonds, 21, who lives at the Merriam home.

TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

The trio were apprehended at the junction of Massachusetts and Park aves., Arlington Heights, by Patrolman Thomas Curran of Arlington, who five minutes previously who had been told to watch out for a looting car carrying a Massachusetts number plate.

When Patrolman Curran saw the car coming toward him he stepped up his hand and stopped it. Simonds was driving the car and brought it to a stop without offering any resistance.

Patrolman Curran stepped into the automobile and directed Simonds to drive to the Arlington police station. Then the trio were charged with larceny, according to Chief Urquhart, and then sent to Concord and turned over to the police of that town.

Sergeant Charles Carroll of Arlington who questioned Simonds, said the latter confessed he had been robbing churches for the past year. According to the sergeant he said he was first tempted to commit robberies of this kind when he saw a girl and man taking money from a church "poor" box in Detroit. Having but 20 cents in his pocket, Merriam, 20, of the same address, and Simonds, 21, who lives at the Merriam home.

TUNNEL WAY INTO STORE THROUGH BASEMENT

Yeggs Escape With Bonds and Cash as Loot After Daring Breaks

Tunneling from one establishment to the other, early today cracked open the Terminal Bowling Alley, 83 Summer st., and Liggett's drugstore at Summer and Kingston sts.

Their loot totaled $5000 in bonds, $112 in cash, $5 in jewelry and a val of cocaine valued at about $10.

The bonds and $12 were taken from the bowling alley safe.

In the drugstore, the robbers failed to reach a compartment of the safe containing Saturday's receipts and the emergency cash fund of $1000.

Entering the bowling alley first, the cracksmen knocked the combination off the safe, drilled a hole and ripped off the door.

Then the cracksmen cut a large hole through wall board and plaster into the basement of the Liggett store, made their way upstairs to the prescription department on the rear and smashed off the door of the safe.

CALLS AID BY PHONE

The breakers were discovered when porters arrived to open the prescription department for the day. The robbers fled to the rear and smashed off the door of the safe.

While Nathan, porter at the bowling alley, noticed the safe in the middle of the floor with most of the contents strewn around. Fearing that anti-cracksmen might still be in hiding there, he left the building and ran to a nearby telephone to summon aid.

He also summoned the proprietor of the alley, Harris Gruber, who arrived on the scene in police from the LaGrange st. station house. A hasty survey of the situation.

While Nathan had been summoned, Archibald Scott, porter of the Liggett drug store, discovered the break there as he entered the prescription department. He went in a police car and notified Chief A. Williams, manager of the store.

While police officers stood guard over the two vehicles, the robbers made a thorough search of the two buildings for the veges and eventually made a clean getaway.

FINGER PRINTS TAKEN

In their flight, the burglar left a trail of small tools such as screw drivers, saws, and other material. The burglar also left a trail of small tools such as screw drivers, saws, and other material.

Enough cash was left in the chamber for the opening of the safe.

The double break is being traced between the two stores. The double break is being traced between the two stores.

MYSTERY BLONDE'S TRAGIC DEATH MAY REOPEN DOUGLAS KING CASE

DYING, SHE POINTS THE FINGER AT PROBE

McBrien, Her Companion, Was Also Quizzed in "Butter-fly's" Strangling

New York, Dec. 16 (AP)—One of America's most widely discussed murder mysteries, the strangling of Dot King, Broadway butterfly, may be reopened by the New York police as a result of information coming to light in Washington, D. C., in connection with the "accidental" death of Mrs. Amelia Fisher Dreyfus.

Mrs. Dreyfus, herself, met a tragic end under circumstances almost as baffling as her friend, Dot King, whom she had known in New York years ago.

Mrs. Dreyfus' unexplained body was picked up on the boat landing of the exclusive Potomac Boat Club in Washington early on the morning of October 20, but

A 252 orchestra was crooning the strains of "Home, Sweet Home."

McBRIEN QUESTIONED.

She had either fallen or had been thrown from a balcony. At the hospital she regained consciousness for a moment.

"I perjured myself in the murder of Dot King," she said in a statement, according to sworn affidavits of the family.

Mrs. Dreyfus had been questioned in the Dot King case almost seven years ago. Her name, however, had not been made public, she was known only as the "mysterious blonde" in the death riddle.

Mrs. Dreyfus' companion on the night she met her death, injuries were Edmund McBrien, New York broker. The police questioned him and pronounced the case "accidental death."

McBrien, the police insisted today, was one of the principal witnesses in the Dot King investigation.

QUERIED IN KING CASE.

Dot King was strangled in her luxurious apartment at 41 W. 57th st., about 3 o'clock on the morning of March 16, 1923.

A dazzling beauty, she had several very wealthy friends including a Philadelphia millionaire, and also a secret sweetheart, Albert E. Guinane, a gigolo. He specialized as a dancing companion for wealthy women.

Guinane, recalled by the police, said he had returned to the hotel where she was staying at the same time as the slain girl, about 2 o'clock, after having dined with several men friends, including McBrien, or "McBryen" as the police here recorded the name, and that he telephoned Dot's room.

Guinane said he got no answer, so he put in a call with the hotel operator to be awakened at 8 a. m. and went to sleep.

McBrien supported Guinane's alibi. McBrien and his companion, the "mysterious blonde," had breakfast with Guinane in the morning.

Capt. Arthur Carey, head of the homicide bureau, told reporters

McBrien was reluctant to disclose the identity of his last companion because he was married and would be ruined socially.

"BLONDE" BACKED ALIBI.

The "mysterious blonde" substituted McBrien's name for Guinane's had breakfast with him the morning "Dot" was found slain.

Since that episode, Mrs. Dreyfus was divorced from her husband, Herbert M. Dreyfus, New York architect.

While the Washington authorities have reopened the case of Mrs. Dreyfus' mysterious death, they have taken no particular concern in the Dot King mystery.

Dist. Atty. Lee Rover of the District of Columbia, however, has agreed to turn over to the New York authorities all the information he uncovers in connection with the Dot King strangling.

The New York police are eager to learn what else—if anything—Mrs. Dreyfus said beyond the statement that she had perjured herself in her Dot King testimony.

Seek Men Who 500 OBJECT TO LEFT WOMAN IN BOLD NOISE IN DORCHESTER

Jamaica Plain Man's Wife in South End Mystery Died of Natural Causes

Convinced that Mrs. Lillian Schwehr, 45, of Boston st., Jamaica Plain, died of natural causes, police today were attempting to find the men who placed her body in a South End alley.

It was found wrapped in a faded bed quilt tied with rope, in the rear of 180 Shawmut ave., with some of the woman's wearing apparel and her purse, containing $52.

Medical Examiner Timothy Leary said Mrs. Schwehr died of heart failure and that liquor had been administered apparently in an attempt to revive her. She was not a drinking woman, he added.

HUSBAND PIZZLED

Capt. John Stulen of Division 5 said he believed the woman died in a nearby lodging house, and in the fear that liquor might have caused her death, the body was removed to where it was found.

He said two men seen in an alley near the alley were being sought, but if they are found there probably could be no criminal prosecution as their offense, disturbing a body, is only a misdemeanor.

Augustus Schwehr, West Springfield st., plumber, husband of the woman, said he was satisfied with the police investigation, although he could not accept the fact that his wife died in a strange location.

He said she was always a home-loving woman, and this statement was borne out by neighbors and friends in both Jamaica Plain and the South End where Mrs. Schwehr lived prior to her marriage.

Mrs. Schwehr's hat was book-keeper for her husband, left his shop on Saturday afternoon, saying she planned to do some Christmas shopping. When she failed to return home Saturday night her husband notified Jamaica Plain police and her description was broadcast.

The "mysterious blonde" substituted McBrien's name for Guinane's had breakfast with him the morning "Dot" was found slain.

Since that episode, Mrs. Dreyfus was divorced from her husband, Herbert M. Dreyfus, New York architect.

While the Washington authorities have reopened the case of Mrs. Dreyfus' mysterious death, they have taken no particular concern in the Dot King mystery.

Dist. Atty. Lee Rover of the District of Columbia, however, has agreed to turn over to the New York authorities all the information he uncovers in connection with the Dot King strangling.

The New York police are eager to learn what else—if anything—Mrs. Dreyfus said beyond the statement that she had perjured herself in her Dot King testimony.

Jamaica Plain Man's Wife in South End Mystery Died of Natural Causes

Convinced that Mrs. Lillian Schwehr, 45, of Boston st., Jamaica Plain, died of natural causes, police today were attempting to find the men who placed her body in a South End alley.

It was found wrapped in a faded bed quilt tied with rope, in the rear of 180 Shawmut ave., with some of the woman's wearing apparel and her purse, containing $52.

Medical Examiner Timothy Leary said Mrs. Schwehr died of heart failure and that liquor had been administered apparently in an attempt to revive her. She was not a drinking woman, he added.

HUSBAND PIZZLED

Capt. John Stulen of Division 5 said he believed the woman died in a nearby lodging house, and in the fear that liquor might have caused her death, the body was removed to where it was found.

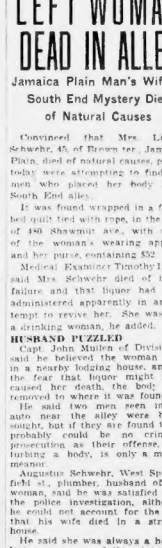

He said two men seen in an alley near the alley were being sought, but if they are found there probably could be no criminal prosecution as their offense, disturbing a body, is only a misdemeanor.

Augustus Schwehr, West Springfield st., plumber, husband of the woman, said he was satisfied with the police investigation, although he could not accept the fact that his wife died in a strange location.

He said she was always a home-loving woman, and this statement was borne out by neighbors and friends in both Jamaica Plain and the South End where Mrs. Schwehr lived prior to her marriage.

HAT, COAT MISSING

Mrs. Schwehr's hat was book-keeper for her husband, left his shop on Saturday afternoon, saying she planned to do some Christmas shopping. When she failed to return home Saturday night her husband notified Jamaica Plain police and her description was broadcast.

Augustus Schwehr, husband of the dead woman, is aiding police in the investigation. He was snapped at the alley where the body was found. (Staff photos.)

SEA ELEPHANTS VISIT MAWSON'S EXPEDITION

Heard Island, Antarctica, Dec. 15.—Life on this small island, scarcely 200 miles from the South Pole, has been most entertaining after the long sea voyage from Kingman Reef and the constant pulling of the Discovery.

Presumably the smallest definite knowledge was available concerning Heard Island, which is a volcanic island, some 100 miles from the South Pole, has been most entertaining after the long sea voyage from Kingman Reef and the constant pulling of the Discovery.

Through we have been some days ashore we have glimpsed only a limited area, and the comparatively clear morning of our arrival the Committee has decided to make a program of snow and rain.

There has been a relief to our tiny Norwegian crew, who have been here for some time, and a hot period of the day.

The snow in the center of the island is kept melting by the sun, and the sea elephants are almost facing with the heat and humidity.

The first man who sleeps on the floor has the advantage of the cool air, but on two occasions had a sea elephant on his back, and the sea elephants are almost facing with the heat and humidity.

We have had splendid meals, made out of the eggs of the penguin, which, the Discovery, and the sea gulls. There is no dearth of food, with 200 sea elephants on the island, and complete thousands of penguins and other birds.

The sea elephants are now ashore for several days, and the sea elephants are almost facing with the heat and humidity.

Occasionally sea elephants come ashore. These are usually accompanied by a seal, which is a common creature was observed swimming back and forth along the shore of the penguin rookery, eating the birds as they plunged in the water. The bulk of old ships the sea elephants are almost facing with the heat and humidity.

Three red-haired men sought. A red-headed man, about 15 years of age, was seen in the water, and the sea elephants are almost facing with the heat and humidity.

Police Sergeant Charles J. Dalton, 17, and a boy, 15, were seen in the water, and the sea elephants are almost facing with the heat and humidity.

BRITISH LAUNCH SECOND GIANT AIRSHIP

Cardington, Eng., Dec. 15 (AP).—The R-100 Great Britain's new giant dirigible, which took four years to build, made her maiden flight from Howden, Yorkshire, today, and later was hitched to the mooring mast.

Launched from her Howden hangar at dawn, the ship at once set well into the air about 8:30 a.m., and immediately about the district for some time. It was then lowered to the ground, since dawn cleared the ship unobscured.

Although Capt. Scott had announced he would make a short trip in view of the fact that it was the ship's first time out and that many of the crew were making their first flight, the R-100 left from Cardington, about 110 miles, in two hours. Her average speed of 20 miles an hour was well up to the specifications.

Arriving over the Cardington air-drome, Capt. Scott turned and cruised around Bedford for two hours before making his way to the mooring mast.

The R-100 is somewhat shorter than the R-101, which was launched recently, but has the same maximum speed, 20 m.p.h. of the R-101, which is claimed to be more effective than any previously used in airship work.

YEAR'S BATTLE LOOMING OVER WORLD COURT

Washington, Dec. 15 (AP).—The lines are being drawn for the expected battle over the League of Nations World Court.

A year may elapse, however, before President Hoover submits the revised proposal, designed to meet the objections in the Senate.

The three ranking Republican senators of the foreign relations committee, Chairman Borah, Johnson of California, and Mower of New Hampshire, disapprove of the new proposal, and the administration is hopeful that the first session of the Senate reconvening of the Senate may result in increased committee strength for friends of the project.

Under the proposal, America could withdraw from the court without prejudice in the event that requests for advisory opinions should be pressed by other nations over the objection of the United States.

Senator Senator George Wharton Pepper of Pennsylvania, who was a member of the foreign relations committee when entry to the World Court was last before the Senate, has addressed a letter to the President, strongly opposing the new plan.

Although he approved of efforts with reservations three years ago, he does not see that the date of the Senate reconvening has been satisfactorily met in the revised proposal.

'Skull, Million Years Old, Missing Link'?

London, Dec. 15 (AP).—Hopes that the missing link, which has baffled anthropologists for generations, will be discovered today as the result of excavations in an open field at Choukoutien, some 30 miles outside of Peking, long known to scientists as a fertile land for anthropological investigations.

Among the discoveries was a perfect skull unearthed by Dr. Davidson Black, which is said to prove that man, with power of thinking, building tools and of walking upright, existed on the earth at the beginning of the ice age. This skull is said to be the most important contribution to the history of human development.

It was found by the scientists to have belonged to the "Peking Man" of Shoukoutien. Paleontologists, which the scientists believe to have been the direct ancestor of the human race.

On the basis of measurements of the frontal cranium and the general proportions of the skull Dr. Black has reached the conclusion, the duplicates state, that the "Peking Man" was a being who stood erect and dated as far back as the ice age, 1,000,000 years ago.

The 10 duplicates, which the all-important skull was a part, by the duplicates together in a sure way indicating to the scientists that they led a community life.

Every British authority, who has either seen the skull or read the scientific reports, describes the discovery as epoch-making, outstripping all previous discoveries, including those of the Piltdown man and the Neanderthal man, which heretofore furnished the chief evidence from which the development of man through the ages was deduced.

The fire was discovered shortly after a milk man, who had played several times of hours on the premises, had been found.

URGES PARENTS TO RE-ASSERT THEIR CONTROL

Concord, N. H., Dec. 15 (AP).—St. Paul's School, in its annual report today, said that "wise parents are devoting efforts for their young people into the country to escape the 'swallow' culture of social strife."

"Both home and school," said Dr. Drury, "must be capable in the presence of youth bent upon a game time, so-called 'School' culture, their heads and parents wake their hands and young people do as they please."

The modern American student must become a player in a game of survival, it is not time for parents to reassert their control and for schools to aid the home in maintaining standards of sensible behavior, not for nine months per annum, but for 12 months per annum.

Concerning the retreats into the country, Dr. Drury asked: "Is this right? Ought family life to be thus disrupted? Would not corporate insurance of home and school realm for youth the best opportunity to stay young in the present formative years from 15 to 18? Rejoice, young men, in the youth, 'long the motto. We are a long time old.'"

WHATEVER else you buy for Christmas, as you select presents for parents, brothers, sisters, intimate friends, KEEP A PIECE OF FURNITURE IN MIND, as a present, always welcome.

A beautiful chair, an artistically made table, a rug of fine quality and workmanship, a lamp to ornament and light a room.

The furnishings of a house tell what its inhabitants are, reflect their taste, indicate their place in the scale of civilization.

GIVE FURNITURE FOR CHRISTMAS PRESENTS.
The first thing a wise bird does is to get a soft, beautiful lining for the nest.

On the outside it may be rough, made of twigs, clay, straw. But inside you find a lining of fine hair and often another lining of soft feathers.

The wise mother and father birds know that the right start for young birds is a nest well furnished.

As with birds, so with human beings. The American people need many things, but first they need A HOME, COMFORTABLE, BEAUTIFUL, WELL FURNISHED, reflecting the good taste and affection of the father and mother.

To such a home the children's memory returns as long as they live.

The comfortable sofa, the big armchair, the pretty carpet, soft curtains at the window. These are memories that remain forever associated with the parents and the home.

Furniture excellently made, and permanently durable, is not expensive. The science of producing fine furniture in this country has been developed with an economy and efficiency not excelled even by the art of automobile production.

To give a comfortable chair or sofa, a beautiful rug, lamp, picture, is to prove that you THINK of your friend's comfort.

The friend or relative whose house you visit will deeply appreciate a Christmas card reading: "Merry Christmas. I thought this little table (or chair, or table lamp) might fit well in one of your rooms."

Prize Goes to Vermont

THE winner of the $5 cash prize for the best recipe of the week is Mrs. J. M. Craig, Box 119, Grafton, Vt. Mrs. Craig's recipe for Orange Tea Buns furnishes an answer to hundreds of letters we receive asking for a dainty roll to serve with salads at bridge parties and other entertainments.

These Orange Tea Buns are economical, easy to make, different and certainly delicious. Can one ask more of a recipe? In addition, you will see that Mrs. Craig has specified several of the food products advertised in this paper. You know that is the only condition of the recipe contest—that one or more of the ingredients used in the recipe shall be a food product advertised in this paper. We accept only the advertising of reliable brands of food and Martha Lee is anxious for her readers to become acquainted with them.

Orange Tea Buns
3 cups butter
4 c. powdered sugar (Dorland)
1 tsp. orange juice
4 theps. grated orange rind
5 c. flour (Worcester)
4 theps. baking powder (Royal)
1 tsp. salt (Worcester)
3 cups butter
1/2 to 1 c. milk (Hood's)
Cook 2 theps. of butter, the orange juice, and 1 thep. of the milk until it thickens. Cool and use this for the filling. Rub 2 theps. butter into the flour, sifted with the baking powder and salt. Add sufficient milk to make a soft dough. Roll 1/2 inch thick and spread with the orange filling. Roll up like a jelly roll. Cut in half-inch slices. Place upside down in well buttered pan. Sprinkle with sugar and the remaining orange rind. Bake 20 minutes in 400 F. oven.

Graduation Cream Cakes

THE H. P. Hood Company, who are so generously presenting a moving picture film and Hood's Ice Cream for our graduation exercises on Tuesday and Wednesday, will also present several of their famous ice cream cakes to fortunate graduates.

These ice cream cakes, which you have seen decorated right in the Martha Lee School by one of Hood's experts, solve the Christmas dessert problem easily and healthfully. Cranberry pancakes and cranberry sauce, either a Christmas or New Year's greeting or an appropriate design, sentiment or emblem you may select. They can be easily ordered by telephone and will be delivered packed in dry ice, which will enable you to keep them several hours in perfect condition. This same delicious ice cream cake also comes in fancy molds in sherbet or ice cream, in an assortment of fruits, flowers or animals.

Cranberry Pancakes With Our Changing N. E. Fresh Pork

DID you ever taste a cranberry pancake? If you were "among those present" at Mr. Den Dooen's recent lesson in the Martha Lee Cooking School you probably did, but I don't want to impress on all the rest of you that there's nothing much more toothsome under the culinary sun than these cranberry pancakes.

We made pancakes by Mr. Den Dooen's French recipe: 1 egg, 1 cup flour, 2 theps. melted butter, 1/2 cup milk, 1 tsp. salt. Beat the egg with the salt, add one-half of the milk, then the flour. When this is mixed to a smooth batter and there are no lumps, add the rest of the milk and the melted butter. These pancakes were made in a well-hutted aluminum frying pan, just large enough for one.

Immediately spread with canned cranberry sauce. Then they were fried, as you see, and arranged around a crown roast of New England dressed fresh pork.

It's a mighty happy combination and a beautiful one as well. The cranberries containing the iodine, iron, lime, sugar and fruit fiber that balances the protein of the meat.

Did you ever stop to think that the very combinations that we like best—lemon juice with fish, apple sauce with pork, currant jelly with lamb—are the healthiest? You know, the specialists tell us to eat right, keep young and live longer.

Speaking of the cranberries, did you know that they are especially rich in iodine, well known for its value in preventing goiter? Iodine comes from the ocean and the vine-ripened cranberries used in this canned cranberry sauce are grown on the rich peat soils among the sand dunes of ocean waves. Cold where ocean spray, rain, fog, and wind, all contribute iodine, which thoughtful Nature seals in berries which are put in cans for you. These cranberries also contain iron, to enrich the red corpuscles of the blood; lime, a bone builder; sugar, a food; mild acids tending to an alkali blood on the defense against disease, and fruit fiber.

You know they tell us that our diet should be one-third fruit and one-third cranberry sauce certainly deserves a place on our menu!

From Watch Tower

THE family food budget is often apt to suffer when special demands, such as Christmas shopping, call for extra money. Somehow the housewife's first thought seems to be to economize on her table. So I'm calling your special attention today to food selections which will help keep down the market bill without interfering with the proper nutrition of your family.

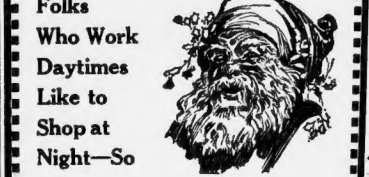

Some new crop Virginia cabbage has appeared on the vegetable counters and while it is delicious, old crop cabbage is good and cheaper, often only 3c to 5c a pound. Hubbard squash, common onion, white potatoes, parsnips, turnip and native hothouse lettuce are reasonable and mushrooms continue low priced.

Florida orange juice or grapefruit makes a good breakfast fruit and tangerines are just 50c to 55c a dozen. Native Baldwins are retailing at four to five pounds for 20c.

In ordering meat these days, the choice cuts of beef are more popular than they have been. These, you know, are from the more exercised, muscular parts and so contain coarser fibers and more connective tissue, but at the same time they are richer in meat juices and better flavored. Long slow cooking will soften the connective tissue and draw out the flavor of these cuts. New England dressed fresh pork is very cheap, too, and country prices are even lower than last week.

Chickadee, haddock and fillet of flounder (usually called fillet of sole) are economical buys also. And I mustn't forget to mention that small-sized, undecorated haddock, laurel and princess size wreaths for the house windows are 25c in 50c.

Ocean Spray JELLIED CRANBERRY SAUCE

Plan Ladies' Night The Boston Bore and Show Club will observe its 40th annual ladies' night and its 250th dinner at Hotel Statler Wednesday evening, with Mrs. A. M. Vogel, Jr., as toastmaster.

Ready to Serve Convenient Sizes Jars and Cans

THIS YEAR, especially, both from the standpoint of economy and quality, New England turns to Ocean Spray Cranberry Sauce.

Raw cranberries are high because of a short crop. And, besides vine-ripened Cape Cod berries are too mellow to stand shipment for home use.

It is to capture this vine-ripened flavor and goodness, this extra sugar, iron, iodine and lime, that Ocean Spray preserving kitchens are located alongside the Cape Cod bogs. There you have the reason that Ocean Spray Cranberry Sauce can never have an equal.

The rich red color—the tang of the open—that characterizes Ocean Spray Cranberry Sauce can only be obtained from the vine-ripened berry.

When New England orders cranberry sauce, it says to the grocer "Ocean Spray, Please!"

JAPAN STARTS NAVAL DRIVE AT CAPITAL

Washington, Dec. 16 (AP).—The Senate today adopted and sent to the White House a joint resolution to appropriate $300,000 for the expenses of American participation in the London naval conference next month. The House already had passed the resolution.

Washington, Dec. 16 (HNS)—The Senate today adopted and sent to the White House a joint resolution to appropriate $300,000 for the expenses of American participation in the London naval conference next month. The House already had passed the resolution.

Japan has announced she wants the currency fixed at 10 to 1, and the first move to convince the United States of the necessity for her demand will be made at a conference the delegation will have with the London conference.

The delegation met at Union station here today. They are the only delegation in the party. Ambassador Matsuoka of Japan at London will be another delegate, and some other Japanese diplomats already in Europe are expected to be added to the delegation from Japan.

Besides the increased ratio demand of Japan, the submarine question will also be a subject for discussion. Japan is not expected to make kind to the British suggestion that submarines be abolished and this has been a subject of controversy since the war.

On behalf of my shipmates and myself I send you sincerest thanks for the help we have been able to accomplish by your generous and assistance given our expedition by the navy. I am very glad to tell you that the men of the navy and marine corps who are here with us have done their jobs splendidly and are a credit to the service.

Upon the completion of operations we will radio report to the Navy Department. The inhabitants of Little America join in respectful regards.

JOHN D. MISSES HIS GOLFING PARTNER

Ormond Beach, Fla., Dec. 16 (HNS)—Hale and hearty despite his 65 years, John D. Rockefeller today got down to some serious golfing on an eight-hole course for himself over the Ormond Beach course this morning.

He is a little behind on his golf, what with traveling here from Lakewood, N. J., and the business of getting out of the winter stay before him.

Neighbor John found a disappointment in time for him, however, when Adolph Ames, neighbor and former golfing partner of Rockefeller, called on the aged golf king Sunday and told him he would not be able to play golf this winter because of injuries to his right eye which have resulted in partial loss of sight.

General Ames is 84 years old and each winter for years he and "Neighbor John" have participated in many stirring golf matches. "John D." had his pet brasserie, Mr. Rockefeller places great reliance in his "second abode" and has more confidence in his brand than any other club in his bag.

Mr. Rockefeller's daily program, besides golf, will include automobile rides through the country and almost daily inspection of the beautiful grounds of his home. He is a lover of nature, flowers and shrubbery.

Today, in the real estate columns of the Standard, you will find more opportunities for profitable investment.

YARD LIBERTY IS RESTORED AT RIOT PRISON

Auburn, N. Y., Dec. 16 (AP).—Released from their cells for the first time since mutineers killed the principal keeper and captured the warden in Wednesday's outbreak, convicts ate their meals in the mess hall today, exercised in the yard and worked in shops saved from the fire which accompanied the first riot last July.

Regular routine was reestablished by Dr. Frank L. Christian, acting warden, while Col. George H. Bunker, continued the inquiry started on his arrival at the State Prison last night.

A dozen or more state troopers manned the prison walls and a force of a hundred guards muzzled with the prisoners in the enclosure.

"We will not cut off the privileges of well-conducted prisoners," said Dr. Christian. "The majority of men in prison had nothing to do with the riot and were victims of unhappy circumstances."

However, the acting warden will not permit visitors to enter inside the walls and the functions of the Mutual Welfare League have been suspended temporarily.

Now Read On CHAPTER 37 THE cans and suitcases banged against the cabin door; the shattered wing scraped and brought with it a final, solid twist; the wind went leaping down the canyon. Its weird howling echoes put the last touch of dread on the scene.

Coldish, rocky walls separated by a terrific gorge, swept about and above them. They could look up 2000 feet to these towering precipices; they could look down 3000 more to the plunging abyss.

The plateau rose like an exiled thing between the canyon's floor and its sheer, overhanging walls and here on its flat, forbidding loneliness, the little plane and its four distraught occupants were landed.

In a numb, icy despair Pat nudged the child in her arms. She murmured: "Hush, hush! We're all right now," and closed her eyes against the vast, threatening shadows trooping from the abyss. These shadows took on dark, titanic forms. They came down in mass formation over the canyon walls, giving its huge, tempest-like swirls a frightening aspect. They were gods of desolation prowling through eternal ruin.

Are YOU Getting YOUR MONEY'S WORTH In Entertainment?

The American people pay more generously for entertainment than any nation on earth. Their generosity has enriched the motion picture industry. Spoken dialog has come to replace the subtitle of the silent picture. Tagging along with the talkies come Mechanical Music—an economy. Real Music is being ordered out of many theatres in favor of this new comer, who never dared a theatrical appearance until he gained the protection of the Talking Picture's novelty and the magic word "Synchronized." Now synchronization with a picture does not give Mechanical Music the quality of Real Music. Banishment of Living Music represents a loss for the theatre patron. Is this loss balanced by the substitution of Mechanical Music? A very great many theatre-goers will answer "NO!"

Then why should the aforementioned American people, who pay so generously for entertainment, be required to take less for their money than they were wont to get?

AT an early hour this morning, the Bruins returned from their successful invasion upon Ottawa and New York, and have now run their string of consecutive victories to five.

The Christmas Business Here Is Fairly Good

Workers, Keep Away From Detroit; Stock Battle Is Two-Sided

By R. C. Forbes

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—Neither the bulls nor the bears have had it all their own way the past week. The bears routed the bulls quite decisively on Thursday. But the bulls hit back vigorously yesterday. After a day of trading, the market received and given both sides, the advantage lay with the bulls at the close.

Market people, while expecting ups and downs, dash and look for any such severe move as occurred on Thursday. The bulls were able to push the market up to 20 points, the price of the bulls, the price of the bulls, the price of the bulls.

The public are now on the buying side, but only timidly, as all things considered, it is just as well.

A Christmas shopping in New York has become livelier than last year. It isn't just the festive, over the most austere of them, aren't doing any business. Women folk say, however, that the rush for the most expensive merchandise is not overwhelming.

To wage war on the stock market, the Detroit Chamber of Commerce has asked me to send that warning through the country. Henry Ford's announcement of a 51-day wage started a panic in Detroit. The Chamber of Commerce and their families have been in the market for some time. Detroit already has more workers than it can employ at the moment.

November, December, a disconcerting month for investors. Manufacturers then seek out new markets in the foreign market. This usually is a time when the market is in a state of confusion.

W. F. Durant, I learned has been here from the stock market. The real story of his week in turn, the market was the weakness was at its worst. He made no interesting announcement, reading from what I hear, Durant is still in the market. International Commercial was his latest disappointment.

Trangle, New York's morning newspaper, yesterday reported a note made by Charles A. Agnew, president of the Equitable Trust company, the first editions of the Boston newspapers recorded.

This 55-year-old banker was rated as among the ablest and most energetic in the East. He was the mainstay behind the Equitable Trust company, which has been in existence for three months ago.

Henry L. Deherty has given no information of having back from Europe. He is quite certain with the way City Service and his company have been handling the Wall Street crisis by his own hands.

Gold exports do not need to be reduced. The market needs the gold. We don't need to be worried by the more than $100 million of gold.

HIGHER COUPON PRICES ARE FORECAST

NO RECESSION IN BUSINESS IS NOTED

Asked about current tendencies in life insurance, President Walton L. Crocker of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Boston stated that no evidence had developed in the life insurance business indicating general business recession.

The company had an excellent experience during the first 11 months of 1929, showing a substantial increase in new business over the corresponding period of 1928. The volume of new business placed with the company in 1929 amounted to $25,000,000, and this ratio promises to be kept up for the balance of the year.

Other conditions are generally normal, although November witnessed a lively demand for policy loans, which is causing a shortage. Of total new loans made by the John Hancock Co. in 1929, $12,000,000 were made on term property, and $12,000,000 on cash property. Other securities purchased, such as government bonds, public utilities, railroad bonds, etc., amounted to $10,000,000.

During the last 11 months of 1929, President Crocker, this company has paid the policyholders and beneficiaries $40,000,000, of this $20,000,000 was paid to policyholders and $20,000,000 to beneficiaries. Total dividends paid to policyholders amounted to approximately $10,000,000.

Two million and one hundred thousand dollars was paid in 1929 to the beneficiaries of policyholders who died in the first year of the policy.

Another interesting factor was that during the first 11 months of 1929, the John Hancock Co. had paid considerable $17,000 applications for $25,000 insurance, and the lives of persons who were found not insurable.

BOND MARKET TRADING QUIET

By JOHN L. COOLEY

New York, Dec. 16 (AP).—The bond market showed quiet trading today, with small gains in many of the foreign and municipal issues. The market was generally quiet, with trading concentrated in the foreign and municipal issues.

Not much more is expected of the day until the external effect on money rates has disappeared. For banks and corporations are keeping their funds invested in the demands of the holiday business, and the unusual quietness of the day included these utility loans and small pieces of municipal bonds.

These payments, together with the mid-December maturities of various bonds and stocks, are estimated at one to one and one-half percent of the total part of which will be available for reinvestment.

The market for municipal bonds, however, is active and many new loans are in prospect. The City of Montreal will receive bids for a $20,000,000 issue at 4 1/2 percent, and the City of New York will receive bids for a $10,000,000 issue at 4 1/2 percent.

The New York Public Service Corp. will receive bids for a $10,000,000 issue at 4 1/2 percent, and the City of New York will receive bids for a $10,000,000 issue at 4 1/2 percent.

SALEM HIGH EFFICIENTLY BE READY FOR MAIN BOYS WANT GAME

MIAMI HIGH SCHOOL won the final game of its regular football schedule on Saturday. With that outcome out of the way the last real barrier to a game between Salem high and Miami high at Miami was removed.

Today the authorities at Miami decide definitely whether or not they would like to play Bill Breda's team at Miami on Christmas day, in the Madison Square Garden arena at the Florida resort.

If the Miami folks feel along an invitation to defeat the Witch City athletic band, consisting of five men, must meet and vote on the question whether or not to send the Salem squad South for the game.

All the lads of the Witch City eleven, whom every game this season, have kept in good condition since the close of the first year. Several of them are out for the court team.

So if the game is arranged, the Salem team will be in shape for a stiff battle with the Miami eleven.

It will be certain by Wednesday whether or not Salem will go South for the battle.

Wakefield high's grid captain for next year, Leon Dulong, is headed for a great grid career. He has won more years at high school as a freshman and soph he played victoriously every minute of his Wakefield schedule. The lad is a real team man.

At the regular performance of a silver trophy is to be presented to the team. This football night should draw many Somerville fans to give much recognition to the Charley Chickens and his boys.

Coach Moriell of the Malden high basketball team takes his squad to Milton, Andover, and Lawrence for the first game on the schedule of the Malden five.

Malden has four lettermen ready to start, Capt. Ralph Krasitz, Paul Smith, Walter Smith and Johnny Hirsler. Some good squads have appeared at the Malden high practice sessions, and should give a stiff and gold a capable court team.

This is the third year that Malden has had a regularly organized team on the basketball floor. The first team was not strong but last year the five played a much improved brand of basketball.

Wakefield high's grid captain for next year, Leon Dulong, is headed for a great grid career. He has won more years at high school as a freshman and soph he played victoriously every minute of his Wakefield schedule. The lad is a real team man.
